ADSL Forum Recommendation for Physical Layer of ADSLs without a Splitter

December 1998

Proposal

In the interest of promoting interoperability, the ADSL Forum primarily devotes its time, resources, and promotional efforts to systems conforming to the applicable ADSL Forum Recommendations.

The ADSL Forum recommends that the physical layer aspects of ADSL systems that combine voice and data transmission without a splitter near to the point-of-entry to the customer's premises comply with the ITU-T Recommendations G.992.2 (ADSL Lite), G.996.1 (test), G.997.1 (OAM), G.994.1 (handshake), G.995.1 (reference).
